WINDHAM HIGH DEFEATS NEW LONDON VOCATIONAL, 16-7

Snappy Game, With Interesting Features, Saturday Afternoon.

Windham High won from New London Vocational at New London, Saturday afternoon in a blood tugging game, 16-7.

In the first quarter, Kenyon made a pretty drop kick from the 30 yard line for a goal.

In the first part of the second quarter, Summer was put out of the game with a bad gash over his right eye. "Curley" Lamoureux was sent into his place at quarter back. Kenyon took Lamoureux's place at left half, and Adams took Kenyon's place at right end. During this quarter, Windham fumbled the ball on her 7 yard line and New London pushed it across for their only score.

In the third quarter, Windham seemed to be inspired, for on the first play, Kenyon made a forward pass to Everett Robinson who ran down the field 75 yards for a touchdown, and Tucker kicked a goal. In this same quarter Kenyon tried to make another drop kick but the ball went four yards under the bar.

In the fourth quarter, New London lost the ball on downs. A pass, Kenyon to Adams, made forty yards. Tucker took the ball for twenty yards and George Robinson took the ball over the line, Tucker missing the goal.

Windham's line was working at its best, Rose, Windham's heavy man plunging through each time. Windham lined up as follows: Left end, Everett Robinson, left tackle, Stahner, left guard, Tighe; center, Bowen; right guard, Rose; right tackle, Costello; right end, Kenyon; quarter back, Summer; left half back, Leo Lamoureux; right half back, Tucker; (captain); fullback, George Robinson.

VICTOR MAHEU DIES SUDDENLY SUNDAY AFTERNOON Had Been Playing Banjo and Humming Melody a Short Time Before

Victor Maheu dropped dead in the hallway at his apartment in the Kimball block on Main street, Sunday afternoon at 5:30, following a severe attack of indigestion. He had been ailing for quite a while, having attacks of heart trouble, one of the causes of his death.

About 5 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, Fred Coriary, who boards on the same floor, heard Mr. Maheu playing a banjo, humming the air, "About half an hour later, Miss Potter, another boarder, heard Mr. Maheu leave the bathroom and walk down the hall. She heard him call "Miss Foley" Mrs. Hemphill. Both of these ladies live in the same block, the former on the same floor and within four feet of where Mr. Maheu was found. Miss Potter became frightened and knocked on Miss Foley's door.

Miss Foley was in another room, reading, and did not hear Mr. Maheu call. She and Miss Potter went to go to the door near where Mr. Maheu was and they heard a thud, probably Mr. Maheu when he fell, and then a deep sigh. Miss Potter went out and tried to revive Mr. Maheu. She chafed his hands and temples, listened to his pulse and tried to hear his heart. She also tried to get him to drink some water. About this time William Taylor arrived and she sent him for a doctor. He ran around in the city but could find no doctor. Doctor Weldon who was at the time performing an operation. The first doctor to arrive was Dr. Williams, who is also the medical examiner.
